Dear Amazon Web Services Customer,

There is a billing problem with your account that requires your attention. We have still not received the following payment.

Account number: 992382842100

Statement Period: February-2025

Invoice Number: 2072985585

Amount: 93.44 INR

If we do not hear from you this account may be suspended. This means you will no longer be able to access your AWS Management Console, manage existing resources or buy any new resources. You will still be able to log-in to the Billing and Cost Management page to pay your bill. We are going to need your help to resolve this. You can make a payment by going to the 'Payments' page <https://console.aws.amazon.com/billing/home#/paymentsoverview> and clicking on 'Pay Now' next to the invoice that is outstanding.

In case you encounter problems while making the payment, below are some troubleshooting tips that can help:

- Check the expiration date on your card.
- Check the credit limit of your card. You might want to verify with your bank that the charge amount isn't higher than the card's limit.
- Ensure that you have sufficient balance in your bank account, and that the daily limit for your UPI transactions has not been exceeded.
- Consult with your bank. If everything still seems fine, you may also need to ask your bank about electronic or Internet purchases. Some banks place restrictions on these types of purchases, and this might be the problem.
- Contact us for help. If you are still having issues. Please feel free to contact us by clicking on the following link: <https://console.aws.amazon.com/support/home>.

We appreciate your cooperation in resolving this issue.

Sincerely,
Amazon Web Services
